KEY QUALIFICATIONS

Experience since: 1975

Countries worked: Bangladesh, Dominican Republic, Ethiopia, Gambia, Guyana, India, Indonesia, Jordan, Liberia, Mexico, Nepal, Nigeria, Pakistan, Rwanda, Sudan, Tanzania, Uganda, Yemen, Zimbabwe.

Disciplines: Development economics; Rural Livelihoods, Governance, Public Service Delivery; Monitoring and Evaluation; Socio-economic Survey; Parastatal Reform; Agriculture; Marketing and Rural Finance; Land Tenure; Environmental Economics; and Aid Programme Management.

- 25 years in international development: from rural and regional development in the Sudan, the Gambia, Bangladesh and Nepal to preparing national guidelines for state level reform in Nigeria and assessing the impact of community driven development in Pakistan.
- Over 10 years field experience of rural livelihoods and community development: both direct implementation and a substantial body of survey and analysis.
- An experienced manager of large ($20+ million) development programmes, including as Chief Technical Adviser/Chief of Party.
- A close understanding of the incentives and constraints which shape public service institutions in developing countries, and substantial experience of managing change in those institutions.
- Published research on how “the success or failure of a development programme is essentially related to aspects of political economy”, and on political and socio-economic drivers of change.
- A senior development and welfare economist whose published theoretical work is supported by extensive practical experience. Lectures presented at Oxford, Durham, London and Aarhus Universities.
- Six years experience in Darfur including the 1984/5 famine and the conflicts of 1989 to 1990.
- A specialist in the reform of land tenure policy and land institutions in the Caribbean, Latin America and Africa.
- A graduate linguist able to work effectively in English, Arabic, Spanish and French. Wide experience of working across different cultures.
- Published research on environmental management, in particular Common Property and Open Access Resources, and on the development and dissemination of agricultural technologies and an experienced leader of research on natural resource management.
- Leader of large multi-disciplinary, multi-national teams on strategic review missions for international donors and government. A confident public presenter who has led policy formation and participatory planning processes at all levels: from international policy on food security and trade to rural communities planning small infrastructure.
- Extensive Monitoring and Evaluation experience, from Rapid Rural Appraisal to stratified, random sample surveys. Leader of impact assessment studies at project, regional and national levels.
